THE EDITOR

This is our third year to produce an annual. We, the Annual Staff, feel that the continuation of this type of communication media is quite necessary in cementing our already firmly established school-community relationship.

We sincerely hope that all our parents and school patrons enjoy our efforts, and will continue to encourage and influence the boys and girls of our community in their pursuit of education.

I wish to take this opportunity to personally congratulate all the members of the Hi-Lite Staff for their cooperation and tireless efforts in bringing to you another edition of our school memoirs.
