As we continue the publication of our yearbook, we feel that this year's annualette is comparable to any before it.

Much hard work and time has been given toward its completion and; as editor, I feel it necessary to commend the entire staff for all its effort.

We feel that each publication makes for a closer relationship between parent and school and affords a greater asset and all-round enrichment to our community.

Speaking for the student-body as a whole, I certainly hope that you will enjoy these limited memoirs and cherish them through the years to come.
