PRESIDENT WRITES LETTER
CHICAGO, MARCH 28, 1927

To our employees:

Courtesy is of the most important characteristics of our service and one of the most valuable assets of our railroad. It has first place in our pledge of "Courtesy, Efficient Service Always," and its observant by all employee is constantly being urged. But why do we place all this emphasis on courtesy?

Courtesy is of such importance because it advertises our service, attracts patronage and makes for pleasant relations with the public generally. One courteous act often causes many persons to praise and use our service, and the good will which our railroad enjoys is due no small part to the pleasing manner in which our employees perform our service.

The reputation for courtesy which our railroad bears is something of which we all are proud. Therefore, I take great pleasure in calling your attention to the following excerpt from a recent decision of the Mississippi Supreme Court is a case in which our railroad was concerned:

"It is very unusual, and in fact almost unknown, for a passenger train employee on the Illinois Central System to be discourteous or impolite to a passenger. It is commonly known and for this reason we can not be ignorant of the fact, that this great railroad system has the enviable reputation throughout the United States of having the most courteous and accommodating employees of any railroad system."

A reputation so outstanding as to receive such recognition is worth maintaining. Let us guard it carefully.

Faithfully yours,
L. A. DOWNS, President I. C. System

GOLDEN SCHOOL NEWS

On Tuesday evening, the pupils of Dennis Consolidated School presented a play, "Aaron Slick of Pumpkin Creek," to an appreciative audience.

This was a return play for a play given by the pupils of Golden at Dennis several weeks ago.

At a recent meeting of the board of trustees, the faculty for next year was elected, which is as follows: J. O. Epps, principal, ninth and tenth grades; W. B. Lindsey, seventh and eighth grades; Miss Lela Graham, fifth and sixth grades; Miss Blanche Wynn, third and fourth grades; Miss Maud Hodge, first and second grades; Miss Myrtle Lambert, primary.

The board of trustees, teachers and pupils, were delighted a few days ago when notice was received from F. C. Jenkins, State High school inspector, stating that the school had been approved as a two-year high school.

The eighth grade graduating exercises were held last Friday evening, when the following received diplomas which admit them into high school; Helen Bostick, Beatrice James, Earline Messer, Lucile Swinney, Hershel Wheeler. Prof. W. R. Nettles, Superintendent Tishomingo County A. H. S., delivered an address chock full of common sense to a highly appreciative audience, after which he delivered diplomas to the above named graduates. This exercise did not mark the close of school. All grades will continue for a period of five weeks, making it a term of eight months.

In a few weeks the ninth grade will present a play. "The Path Across the Hill." At the close of the school the tenth grade will play "The Road to the City." Both will be very entertaining. Watch for later announcements of dates.

The trustees are planning to have the building lighted electrically, which will be a great convenience for night meetings.

Many chambers of commerce throughout Mississippi no longer limit their activities to their city limits, but very wisely taken up the problem in their respective counties and legitimate trade territories, and it is the opinion of the officials of the Mississippi State board of development that the program of a chamber of commerce is "far from complete when it fails to embrace the rural problems in it's territory."

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

Where on earth does all the money go? That household question makes the whole world kin. It is one that demands an accounting whether pennies or millions of dollars are involved. Here is one answer to it. This is what became of every $100 received by the Illinois Central System in 1926:

The operation of trains and other transportations cost, including $5.85 for fuel, $31.72. That left $68.28.

The up-keep of locomotives, freight and passenger cars and other equipment cost $15.93. That left $52.35.

The upkeep of tracks, roadbed, bridges, buildings and other structures cost $14.15. That left $38.20.

The solicitation of traffic and the compilation and insurance of tariffs cost $1.81. Payments for lost and damaged freight and for casualties took $1.24. The salaries of clerks and other general office employees took $1.22. Serving meals in dining and buffet cars and in restaurants used 65 cents of every $100 the railroad received from all sources. Pensions to retired employees required 30 cents. Legal expense amounted to 27 cents. The expense of valuation work was 11 cents. Miscellaneous general expenses amounted to 39 cents. These items totaled $5.99. That left $32.21.

The salaries of general officers took 19 cents. That left $32.02.

There was put aside $5.36 in depreciation and retirement charges to pay for the wearing out of equipment. That left $26.66.

Rentals of equipment, leased lines and joint facilities took $3.78. That left $22.88.

Interest payment on borrowed money took $7.76. That left $15.12.

Dividends to the owners of the railroad for the use of their property accounted for $5.41. Compared with this, taxes took $6.33. After dividends and taxes were paid, $3.38 was left out of the original $100. The $3.38 left over was for available for enlarging and improving the property.

The Illinois Central System welcomes public knowledge about the facts about its business. It wants the public to know that the money collected for transportation is wisely and economically expended in the production and improvement of the service.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.
