New Firm Will Start Operation in County

Mississippi Limestone Products, Inc., a new Tishomingo County firm, will begin operation Monday morning, January 6, in a limestone rock quarry situated near the Alabama line in the Third Supervisor's district. Products to be produced by the new company will be limestone aggregate to be used in building roads, lime for agricultural purposes, and any other products that may use limestone such as hot mix asphalt, cold mix asphalt, concrete tile, concrete blocks, and other types of concrete using limestone as a base.

Owners of the firm are George Lambert, Glen Lambert, Gerald Lambert, and Edwin Lambert, all of Tennessee. George Lambert is president of the corporation and Glen, Gerald, and Edwin Lambert will reside in Iuka. The Lamberts come to Tishomingo County with unexcelled reputations for sound business practices. They have long been in the rock quarry business and have operated a number of quarries in Tennessee.

Capital outlay for machinery in the Tishomingo County quarry will exceed $750,000.00, the first equipment being moved to the site on Monday of this week. Rock crushing machinery is on order and upon completion will be the most elaborate plant of its type in Mississippi and possibly in the Mid-south. Equipment put in use this week was a huge D-8 bulldozer costing $65,000.

Experts who have surveyed the limestone in the area of the new rock quarry report that this is the finest limestone to be found anywhere in the Southland and that the quantity is unlimited. Operators of the firm say they expect to have a stockpile ready to start deliveries by May 1 of this year.
